

We offer two types of contracts:

Full Time Stringer Contract

For stringers that wish to sign full time with KDR Media. The breakout will be 60% for those who choose this route. 100% of proceeds will go to stringers for LIVE streams licensed by media.

1-Day Stringer Contract

For stringers that wish to remain independent of a brokering company, that may need/want the assistance of KDR Media. The breakout for the 1-Day contract will be 50%.

As a Stringer for KDR, you must meet these requirements:

- Have the ability to shoot High Definition (720 or 1080p) video using a tripod.
- Have the ability to transfer video from your camera to your computer during the "storm" or while on the road.
- Have the ability to upload footage to KDR Media within 1 to 2 hours of the event occurring.

MEDIA BROKERING SERVICES

Providing Storm Chasers with opportunity to market their videos, live video streams, and photography to the leaders in television news, online entities, and stock footage.

KDR Media is a Brokering company that licenses LIVE video streaming (through partners), Electronic News Gathering (ENG), stock video footage, as well as photography for broadcast on local, national and international levels. KDR Media storm chaser footage has been seen on all major television networks such as ABC, CBS, CNN, FOX, NBC, The Weather Channel and all their affiliates including local television markets across the United States.

How it works:

As a KDR Storm Chaser, when you record a severe weather event you will immediately send us your raw, unedited footage through our FTP server. Once you've finished uploading, you will contact us by phone, text message, or by email informing us that you have uploaded a new video... then we take care of the rest! We watermark your video and market it to news and other television networks as a product for television, internet, and other mediums. Remember, you will always maintain ownership rights to your media.

KDR Media's Storm Chaser footage can be seen on these and other networks.
